

Dear Campers...

Wow! What an incredible week! It wasn't just the intense color war competitions (yes every point matters) beautiful songs, and funny skits. (Said over in my slow southern drawl), But it was the joy and energy that both staff and campers together enjoyed each other's company and gave it their all that made it so special. Color war provides the opportunity for individuals to shine as well as all of us together. From solos to three-point shoot outs and ping-pong competitions to the entire camp singing Alma maters together (yes even joining the other teams) it was a beautiful display of togetherness. This displayed clearly that we are children of Hashem as it says in this weeks parsha בניים אתם לה. Let's keep continuing making a Kiddush Shem Shamayim. Have a wonderful Shabbos (enjoy the fleishege shabbos meal, and the milchig melava malka)

Have a great Shabbos,
Rabbi Kramer

From The Desk Of Ez the Prez

The winner is... Blu...Red!!!! It just comes to show, you hear what you want to hear. Or, it comes to show, Rabbi Kramer needs to get a better mic. Ya, probably the second.

To be honest, you hear what you want to hear, you see what you want to see. "I was safe! Glasser, get some glasses! You're the worst best ump in camp!" #certified What a War of the Colors. A five point victory for Red. Super close. Closer than two sumo wrestlers in an elevator. Closer than Shlomo Sheril and the canteen. Closer than Soled and his ducklings.

It was a great war with a great ending. General's dance battle, a lot of eggs and milk and feathers on the floor (I'm only on showe r#3), and an Eeshay first #history. The winning team is the....nanananananaheyyyyyyyo... team of.... nanananana-heyyyyyyyo... Blu...Reeeeeedddddd!!!!

Always on Fire,
Ez
