

Dear Campers...

Wow! Whoever would have thought that camping in the middle of nowhere could be so incredible?! We got to see the beautiful world of Hashem up close on the waterfall hike and rapidly rafting down the Lehigh river. What made it most special was that we enjoyed it as a group - together - Be'achdus. Sitting around the campfire, joining in a heartfelt kumzitz, and schmoozing over a delicious barbecue enhanced the feeling of achdus.

As we start the nine days, let's remember, as we discussed, the three reasons why we don't say Tachanun on Tisha Be'av. In particular, let's remember Bubby's message that Hashem loves us so much that He takes out our deserved punishment on objects (such as the Bais Hamikdash) rather than on His beloved nation - this is therefore a cause for joy (Who remembers the other two reasons?) Looking forward to a meaningful and fun-filled week ahead. PS - was Ezra really breaking out Color war?

*Have a wonderful restful Shabbos,
Rabbi Kramer*

I know you like the workshops. Guitar, Woodworking, Specialized Leagues, Swim, I get it. But, I do think we can get one more workshop that you guys will like. And, it will be taught by a camper. Welcome to the Yitzzy Cohen Navy Seal Boot Camp. Just don't think you're going to be able to hijack the head staff boat. We are armed with the only ingredient needed for success- our teamwork. Yeah, and our guns. Those definitely helped. But mainly, the teamwork. Oh, how can I ever forget the sight of Avi P getting shot in the face. Oh, good times.

I can't speak about the overnight without mentioning the best part... wandering aimlessly through the woods having no clue where our bunk is. So much fun. And, we killed that bear. "No we didn't" - just go with it. Camp Daddy Kramer was a unique campground. We were very very safe. Trust me. I know the fire guy. And he has a mustang. We were especially safe by the bon fire. What's dangerous about a ginormous 7 foot bon fire in a campground consisting entirely of trees and wooden bunks? Nothing.

And if something catches fire, just go to a basement. Why? Because heat rises. I don't just have a new workshop. I also have a new lunch activity. Rafting Race Connect Four. It's race connect four but the board is at the end of the river. Who wants to go first? Just don't be surprised if by the time you finish, Shmuel Kramer is the director of camp. By the way, Shmuel would be an excellent director. Anyone whose name is Kramer and who can destroy Lisker in a one-on-one is qualified to be the director. New half starts off hot, "Where's Groman? I want a trade!" @Weissman @Abramoff, top league teams come out firing, triple-teaming Feinsod in E-League, Taboo with No Rules, take a walk @Neg @Schmidt @Tischlerswholebunk, Nadata with the "spike", Bunk Chaf Poppers after Ice Cream fakeout, YN Greenberg B-Mitz #ezracansingthelightsoutofhappybirthdayandthebeatboxingskillsareonpoint, Rabbi Bus Driver, Camp Daddy Kramer, I'm out of Rabbi Kramer overnight puns, where's Pinter?, the Fire of Eeshay #kounselorkumzitz #theheatisliterallyrising, Levi Adler literally made the overnight awesome #BBQ #mallows #uhaul #everyotherthingthatcamewithustothetrip #thanksLeviyourethebest, early morning hike, waterfall, hello up there, white water wars, post rafting BBQ and sweatshirt vibes, week two coming up, Alumni Game on Wednesday, the heat is rising higher...
