

Dear Campers...

What a fantastic week one! I'm not only referring to the high level sports, high flying Thrillz, night activities, Rabbi Wisotsky's lunch competitions, and non stop Eeshay fun. Much more than that. I'm referring to the Chavrashaft, the Eeshay family atmosphere, and the high level way that we endeavor to treat each other. Let's remember the Erev Shabbos phone calls to the special needs man in which Rav Pam complimented the D'var Torah that made no sense. Let's remember Bubby Malka's concern for the bus driver and for others even though she was quite ill.

In this weeks Parsha, Balak compliments bilam on his ability to bless, in addition to his ability to curse

The Sforno asks - but everyone knew that Bilam didn't have the power to bless?

He answers that Balak was communicating to Bilam that I don't view you as only a destroyer, but you also are able to do positive good things. Everybody wants and needs other people to complement them and view them in a positive way.

We had an awesome first week together. Bring that positive outlook, home to your families!

*Have a wonderful restful Shabbos
Rabbi Kramer*

THE GROMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

OHHHHH BABY! We. Are. Back. Now I know what you're thinking. Doesn't Ez- uh- RABBI Wisotzky write this article? Well, he's a little busy, you know, being a Rabbi and stuff. Must be because he got married. Poof - Rabbi. Or maybe it's the white shirt? But only if it's put on directly after removing the polo shirt. Toich K'dei Dibbur style. Otherwise you're not Yotzei. Are polo shirts even allowed when you're a Rabbi? Maybe there are other requirements for being a Rabbi. Like not walking off the field because you felt a little drop of rain. K forget Rabbi. MAN UP. RAIN IS NOT POISONOUS. It barely even rained the whole week. You didn't see me quit the staff game after yall drenched me at home plate. Like picture the scene. You pour water on me and then I'm like "aight peace out I'm done". Skrrt skrrt I'm outta there. Although Simcha balled out, he could've covered third too. Mr. Eeshay can pretty much do anything (I would know, I've been there). Even bribe his way to the title. (I wouldn't know I've never used that tactic to try and steal Mr Eeshay. Unlike EVERY OTHER COUNSELOR. Although only Simcha won so I guess only he's gonna have to pay up. Sorry Snitow's bunk, and Iskowitz's bunk, and Hahn's and Acker- you get the point. No sodas for you.) But seriously, bribery? Shlomo Wolbe is the coolest counselor in camp and his lawyer didn't even mention that. Maybe it's time for him to hire the best lawyer around, Mr. Krich. Lawyer Aryeh Krich put up his best fight and should have won, although uncontrollable circumstances denied his victory. Maybe a white shirt would have done it. You can't deny a Rabbi lawyer. You also can't deny that camp cool-aid has no idea what's coming. Get ready boys. #beatcoolaid #RABBIwisotzky #hashtagsarehishingsoingonnastopnow Enjoy your ice cream ;) Have an awesome shabbos Yosef
