

Dear Campers...

It's hard to imagine that the first half is over. Reflecting back brings a smile to my face as I think about the growth and good times that was had by all. An Eeshay moment is when a smile breaks out on a campers face when his friend hits a nice shot. An Eeshay moment is when we randomly start cheering someone's name... just because. We focused this half on Bein Adam Lchaveiro, let's continue that focus for the remainder of the summer and particularly during the nine days.

A big Yasher Koach to the generals, captains and entire teams of this epic first half color war. For those of you who are heading elsewhere for the second half; you will be missed and i hope you enjoy.

For those that are lucky enough to continue in Eeshay - buckle up and prepare for an incredible half starting Monday.

*Have a wonderful restful Shabbos
Rabbi Kramer*

THE GROMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

BOY am I tired. What a jam packed week. Color war was insane! I can barely remember it all, there was just so much going on. At least red came out with the win; that much I can remember. And I think I'm a wizard now? With a torch? And did Coolam take our building in middle of color war? And then we jumped on them and took it back? And they didn't even know what a building was (nice joke Asher, I wonder where you got it from). But seriously, does anyone remember who was singing the national anthem before the plays? I gotta hire him. Maybe he'll sing the next EGT with Dovi Rhine. (#Goldenbuzzer). I heard he's also a Rabbi. I mean it makes sense, I've never seen him without a white shirt. Rabbi Silverman was his name? Maybe Rabbi Copperman? Something like that. But what would happen if he swapped out the white shirt? Would the beard go away? POOF! Unrabbicadabra. Back to just being a man of gold. Huh, maybe I am a wizard.... Anyway, I heard an interesting question this week. So you know the whole, "why do you park in a driveway and drive on a parkway?" Shtickle? Let's take it one step further. If you park in a driveway shouldn't you also park in a driving lot? Not a parking lot. You should drive on a parking lot. Like you drive on a parkway. But park in a driving lot. Ahhhhhhh but you're parking in a PARKING lot. Good Pshat. Except if that was the case then you'd also be parking on the parkway. So your Ra'ayah falls off. Except then you can say the same thing the other way so that Ra'ayah falls off and then we end up with Loh Rueeh Zeh Cruueh Zeh But Tzad Hashaveh Shebahen is English makes no sense. We should all learn hebrew. Way cooler language. But only if you understand it. If you don't, all it sounds like is ALLOHniufbaecfaufbafakjbjfhpfnbDIG-EVERuifbijouhoaiedaohaebcoianiuwhywhywhywhywhy.

They speak so fast. Almost as fast as this first half that flew by. But lucky us who get another. And guess who controls the fate of your league teams. Aha-hahahahaha. Seriously though, those of you leaving, I'm tearing up. I'm gonna miss you guys. Those of you staying, It's gonna be wild. Get ready boys. Have an awesome Shabbos, Yosef
